

Images of the artworks composing the Gori Collection are the property of the same. Without express written consent, the Collection forbids the mechanical or digital reproduction, distribution or exhibition of any image – in full or in part – in newspapers, magazine, books, videos, social media, etc.. Commercial and promotional use is prohibited. Any consent to usage on our part is one-time only and is limited to the specific concession of our rights only and in no way absolves the applicant from their obligations to third parties (photographers, artists, copyright agencies, etc.).